

Your lawyer or mine?

I am the purchasing Broker of Superyachts and guide clients throughout the entire project from defining the envisioned ship, global market analysis of availability, selection of the top 10 ships, pre-purchase, contract phase, survey, and delivery of a pre-owned or new build Superyacht, mainly in the range of 25 to 100 meters (YES methodology).

Is a purchasing Broker necessary then?

If you have an issue in another business area, do you take the opposing party's lawyer or your own lawyer? Right, but you don't have a problem yet, do you? Correct, we prevent you to getting one.

The buying and selling of a superyacht depends on contracts and millions of investments. It needs to be well set up, handled, and concluded from day one.

You will also need your own broker and your own lawyer (or we supply a specialized Yachting lawyer).
